Spirit of '69

As we look back on 1969, moments of our school year come to life once more. They are pleasurable experiences remembered with a smile to us who have lived and felt them.

We remember competing for class honors or a position on the varsity football team. Pep sessions, dances, club meetings, and 565 pairs of feet shuffling through the halls during the five-minute class breaks bring to mind the motion of the year. Our moods and emotions varied from tears shed at a close basketball game, to a classmate's hearty greeting, or the relief of getting an "A".

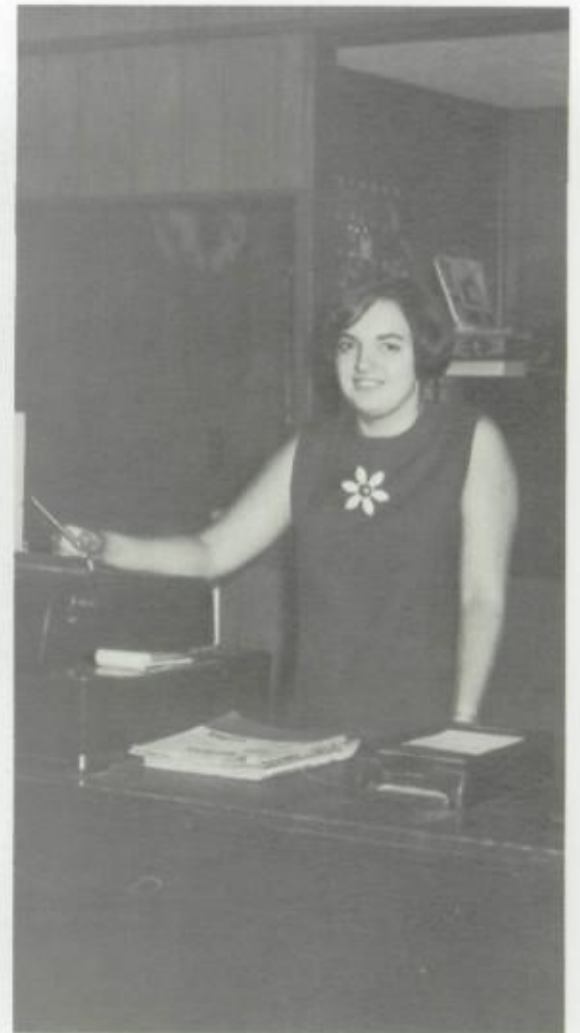

Many more incidents and feelings of our unique year will once again be recaptured as we recall the spirit of '69.

The Spirit of '69 Was Evident

Students who lived in the country, rode the buses to school.

Like many students, Pam had a part time job to earn spending money.

Relaxation and fun were always welcomed.

Many students drove cars to school.

in Knox High Student Life

Most students got their homework done in study hall.

As alarms went off throughout the city—students of Knox High arose ready to face another school day. As they dressed, straightened their rooms, and ate breakfast, they thought of the busy hours ahead. Whether they walked, drove, or rode a bus, all hurried so as not to be late. Once at school, the pace did not slow up. There were classes, meetings, chatting with friends, and preparing the school for a big game. After school, there were club meetings, jobs, sports, and homework. It was through these activities that the students of Knox High displayed the great pride they held for their school. Whether they were waiting on an out-of-town customer or cheering their team on to a victory, the students showed their school spirit. After a busy day, the students of KHS prepared to retire and thought of the next day and—school.

The spirit of Christmas was evident as the students decorated the school.

Like Chuck, all the students enjoyed their lunch hour.

Convocations and Lyceum Programs Added

Georgeanne Palman played Patsy in the play that the 5th period speech class produced.

Knox students were given a demonstration on a specially modified trampoline.

The Homecoming pep session was held on the football field for the first time.

Rolf Ehrenberg, an exchange student from Sweden, stayed in Knox for a few days, and spoke to the student body.

Variety to School Life

Pep sessions and lyceum programs provided students with a welcome break in the dreary school routine. The programs last year were both entertaining and educational. The student council provided a wide variety of lyceum programs.

The trampoline artists were thoroughly enjoyed by the student body and a few students even got into a game of space ball. Students gained a little knowledge of foreign lands when Rolf Ehrenberg, an exchange student from Sweden, spoke about the people and customs of his native country.

Music was a large part of these programs. There were two programs dealing with music. The "Goldenaires," a choral group from Wakarusa provided an afternoon of joyous song as did Ken Henderson, a guitar and sound effects specialist.

Other afternoons were spent trying to get up some school spirit in preparation for basketball, football, or wrestling matches. The special homecoming program was the big event with dozens of signs and posters. The cheerleaders, pep band, and a loud student body helped get the players up and might have helped win a few games during the year.

Chuck Randall gave a speech on pre-sectional wrestling thoughts.

Several Knox students provided entertainment during the noon hour to bring in food for the Student Council's Christmas food drive.

The 1968 Homecoming Proved to Be a Memorable Occasion for Students and Alumni

The 1968 Homecoming turned over a new leaf last year. Student participation was encouraged and resulted not only in many changes, but also in many improvements. In addition to the floats, hundreds of signs, posters, and decorations were made by the student body. This involvement incited new spirit in the boys and girls at Knox High.

The Homecoming parade, which consisted of the queen candidates, the band, the floats, and students carrying their signs, started from the Court House square and marched down Main Street to the football field where the festivities were held.

That evening our Redskin boys played against the Shamrocks from North Liberty. After a long, tough game, our team was rewarded by only a tie score, 0 to 0. During halftime Miss Peggy Howard was crowned Homecoming Queen by last year's queen, Donna Garland Rodgers, out of a court of nine candidates. Further excitement followed as the results of the judging of the floats were announced. The Seniors won first prize for their float, "Cash in a Victory." The Junior float, "Candidate for Victory," placed second, and the Sophomore float, "Landslide to Victory," was awarded third prize. After the game, the traditional Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the cheerleaders, was held.

With the many changes and improvements, last year's Homecoming was certainly something for old Knox High students to come home to.

“Spanish El Amor” Set a Spanish Mood

With the supervision of Mr. Wehlage, Clara Brown arranged the flowers for the centerpiece.

for a Romantic Evening

"Spanish El Amor" was selected as the theme for the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom. The center of the dance floor was a Spanish garden complete with fountain, love seat, and walk. To carry through the idea of a Spanish evening, the gym was decorated in light and dark blue crepe paper.

At 11 p.m. Bill Beeson, president of the Junior class, crowned Nancy Binkowski as the 1968 prom queen. She was crowned by Nancy Wright, the 1967 prom queen. After the crowning, Nancy and Bill led the Grand March.

Dancing continued till 12 p.m. when the scene changed to the V.F.W. for a movie and fast dance. After a Sunday breakfast, everyone went to the Dunes for a day of fun in the sun.

The 1968 Junior-Senior Prom was an event to remember for all who attended.

Prom Queen—Pat O'Hara.

Juniors Worked Hard

A Roman Holiday was the setting for the 1969 Junior-Senior Prom. With the help of the sponsors, the Juniors tried a new idea in decorating. They divided the gym down the middle to get the effect of a garden and the interior area of a Roman villa. Another idea was that of using many shades of green shredded crepe paper hung to create the effect of trees. The art class contributed time and effort by making a seven foot statue for the centerpiece.

The servers were dressed in togas and robes of several colors. Four of them acted as ushers for the arriving couples.

At 11:00 p.m., Jay Slauter, president of the junior class, introduced the court, consisting of Deb Crider, Peggy Glass, Deb Keller, Pat O'Hara, and Aline Raffel. Prom Queen Pat O'Hara was crowned by the 1968 Queen Nancy Binkowski.

The prom continued until midnight when many couples went to the after-prom activities sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. The movie seen was "Under the Yum Yum Tree." The festive atmosphere continued through Sunday as many couples attended breakfasts and journeyed to the Warren Dunes for the perfect ending for a long-to-be-remembered Prom.

The Senior Class was especially proud of its top twelve students. These students of the top twelve prove that being "book worms" does not stop them from becoming popular in many of the activities.

Much hard study kept the honor students busy and they rightfully earned their place in the top twelve. Even though they worked hard they found time for other activities. Among these students we have the president of the student body, the D.A.R. good citizen award winner, the Girls' and Boys' State representatives, the Girls' State alternate, the Science Club secretary-treasurer, one varsity track man, the photographer of the annual, one varsity basketball player, one varsity football player, two students in chorus, four students in band, the prom queen, and members of the various clubs.

May 25 Marked the End of the Seniors thought back on all the fun they had during their school years at K.H.S.

Arlene received her diploma from Mr. Harbison.

Clara Brown gave her Valedictory address carrying out the theme of "The Key to the Future."

Senior's High School Career.

The Class of 1969 broke with tradition of having one color for graduation robes by selecting light blue for the girls and dark navy blue for the boys. White roses, our class flower were worn for commencement services.

Baccalaureate was held at 2:00 o'clock Sunday May 25. Reverend Robert Fields, Minister of the Knox United Methodist Church, gave the Baccalaureate Address. The band under the direction of Mr. Terry Collins and the choir under Mr. Paul McGaughey performed at both Baccalaureate and Commencement. Clara Brown gave the Valedictorian Address, and Sally Sobraske gave the Salutatorian Address. Peggy Ikeda, Mark Richey, and Chuck Leedy were elected from the Class to give speeches carrying out the theme "The Key to the Future." Kathy Dedloff and Jerry Gurrado gave the Invocation and Benediction respectively. Bill Beeson, president of the Student Body, acted as Master of Ceremonies for both services.

The Senior Class would like to take this opportunity to thank our sponsors; Miss Crowder, Mr. Simmons, Mr. Kriston, and Mr. Sniadecki for their help in making our final year at Knox High School one we'll remember.

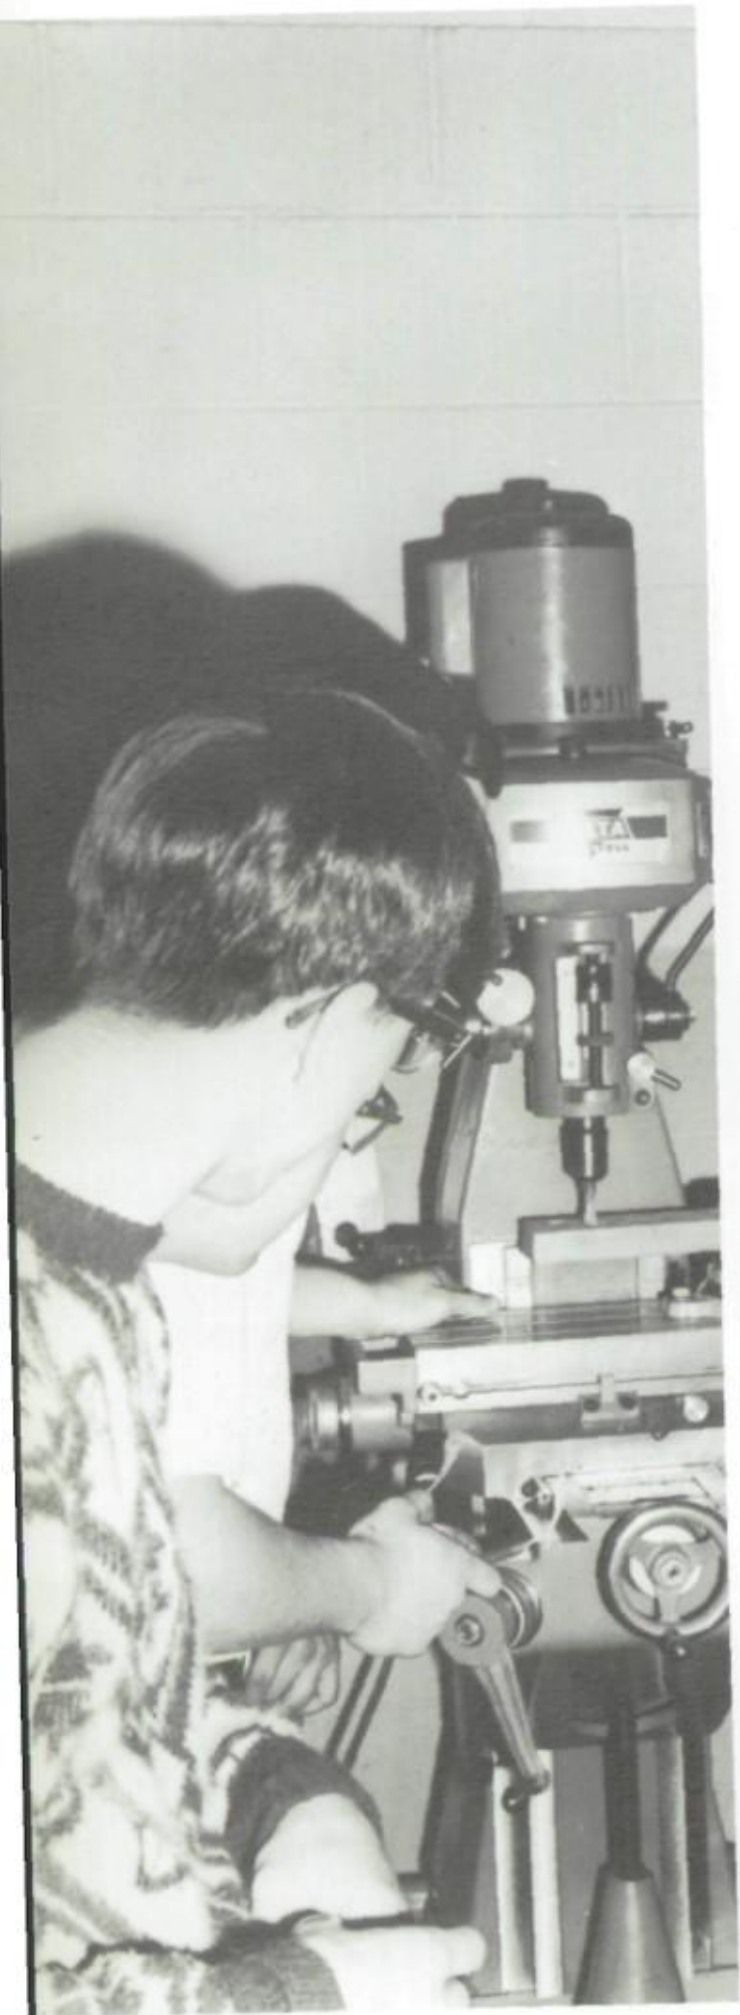

Reed received his diploma from Mr. Harbison.

Seniors waited anxiously in the halls before Commencement for their diplomas. They had mixed emotions about graduation.

Academics of '69

Athletics and extra-curricular activities seem to get most of the attention at Knox High but the purpose of school is to educate the students in their academic studies. Foreign languages help students with their grammar as well as give them a second language. Math and science prepare students for college where they will learn to become doctors or engineers. History, government, and economics gives them knowledge of their country in preparing them to be good citizens. Physical education and fine arts develop the students' cultural tastes as well as their bodies.

The teaching of these academic subjects is the school's major objective and provides a sturdy foundation for the spirit of '69.

Math and Science Helped

Many students learned Senior Math takes many hours of long and tedious study.

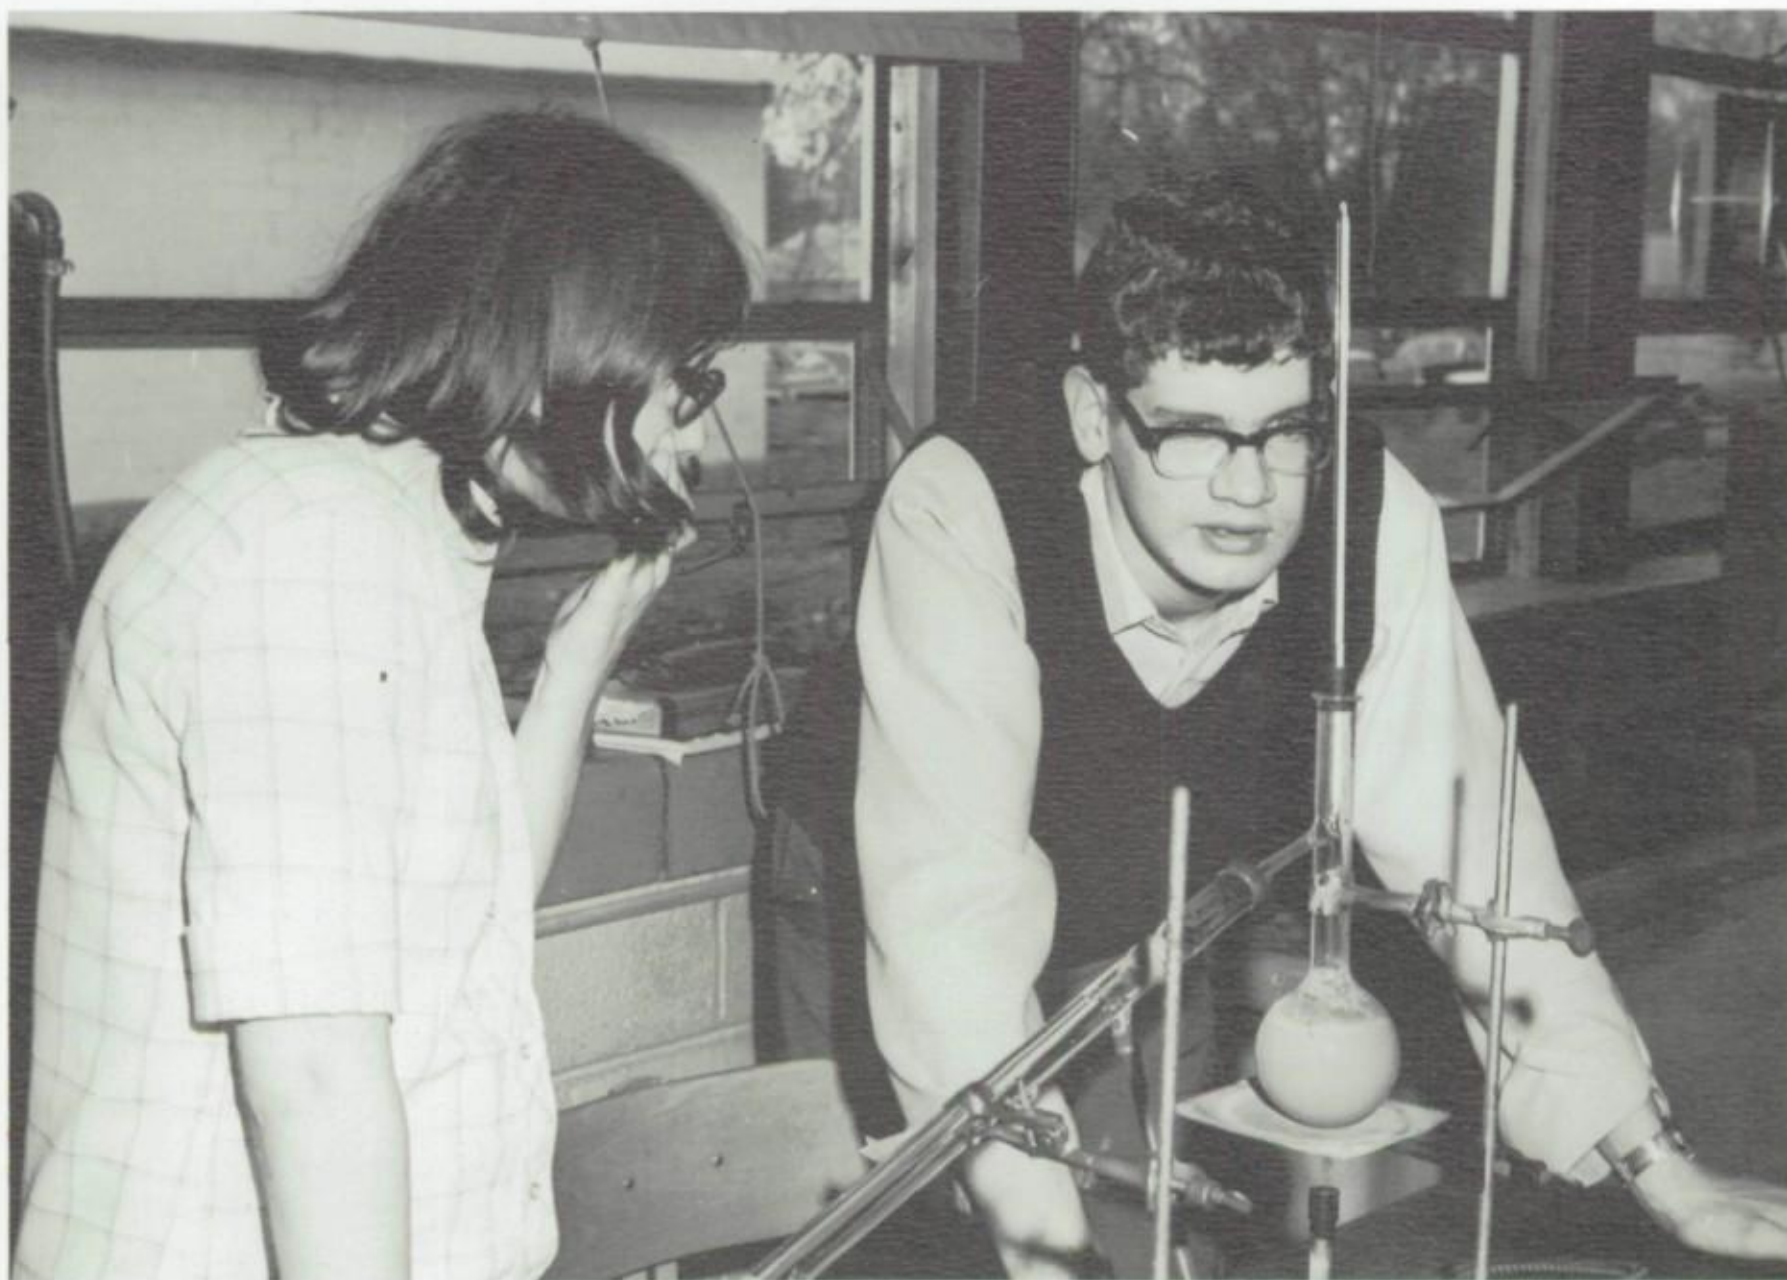

Even Geometry was a laughing matter at times.

Mathematics and science has always taken a vital place in subjects required and taken at K.H.S. Without either of the latter no organization, club, or activity could exist. With ever increasing need for math and science in our school-life, jobs, and everyday life enrollment in courses offered has increased greatly. Science although not considered a major course in anyones curriculum has greatly figured in most students school life since are offered a first year science courses. Those following up with sophomore biology are offered various science courses in their junior and senior year. Chemistry, physics, or physical science are offered to anyone wishing to complete their senior year with science included.

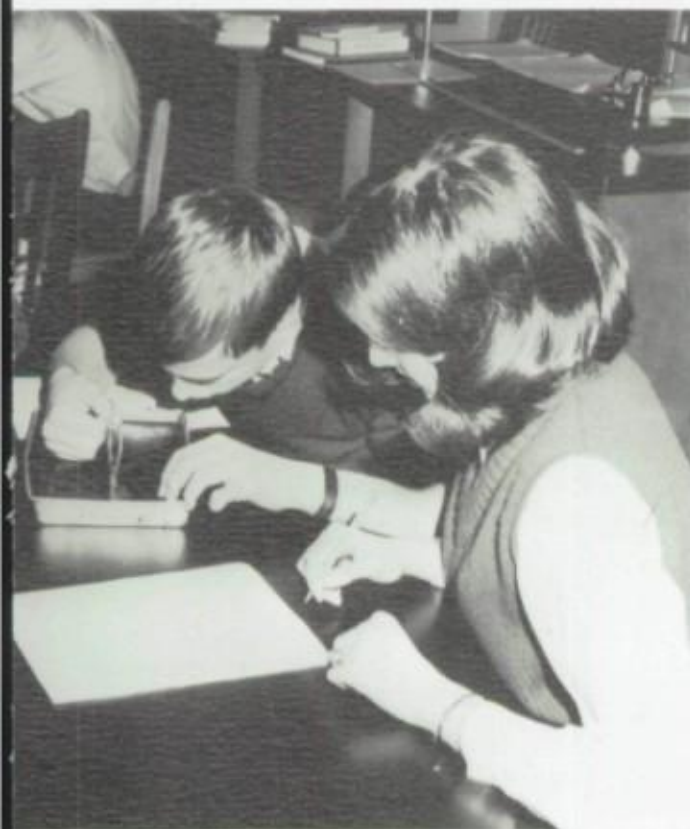

Mathematics offered range from simplest General Mathematics to the mystical advanced algebra offered to the seniors. Freshman have a choice of either elementary algebra or General Mathematics. Having completed one or both of the latter the student can look forward to Plane Geometry, advanced Algebra, and Senior Math to fill their K.H.S. math years.

Prepare for Tomorrow Today.

K.H.S.'s modern chemists were encouraged to absorb the knowledge of Chemistry by conducting and observing labs.

Even the squeamish found the dissecting in Biology the most interesting part of the course.

Nancy and Marc found that labs took concentration and patience if you wanted to come out with the proper result.

Social Studies Acquaints

In order to enlarge the students' viewpoint of today's world, the social studies department taught people, the past and the present, and the land in which they lived.

The government class enjoyed organizing a mock election. They made the ballot boxes, controlled the polls, and counted the ballots. In addition, they studied and discussed the basic principles of our form of government. The economics class discussed the theory of supply and demand. Although government and economics were required subjects, the seniors enjoyed these classes, and learned more about the world around them.

World history helped the students learn of the advancement of man and his ability to cope with arising conflicts, while U.S. history classes related their nation's past to its present. Citizenship helped the Freshmen understand the government today and in the past, and how it is run.

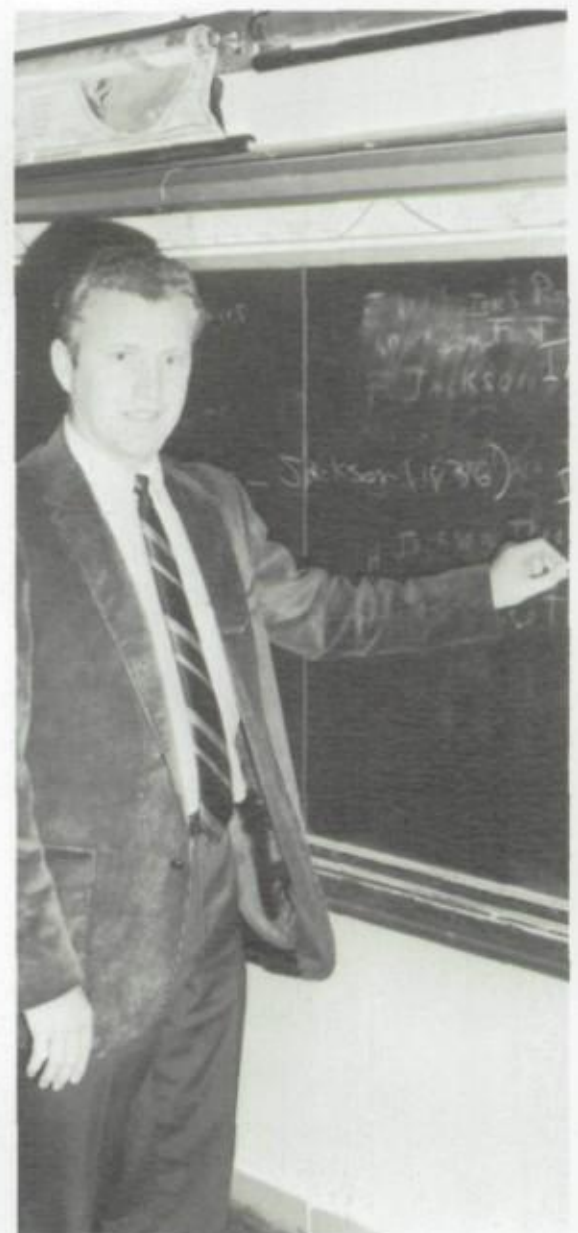

The many social studies subjects involved intense group discussions which allowed the students to be critical of other's opinions. The students realized that someone is making history every hour of the day.

Kathy Dedloff counts ballots for the mock election.

Miss Douglas explains the different acts of our government to her citizenship class.

Mr. Peters writes outlines on the board to help his students.

Students with Current World News

Peggy Ikeda finds the Time Magazine very useful when she writes her term paper for Government class.

The students thought Mr. Peters' talks in U.S. history were very interesting.

Mr. Simmons shows his world history students classical paintings of the 15th and 16th Century.

Mr. Crandall tells his U.S. history class about the campaigns of the war.

All Human Relationships

Language is the most common form of communication. It is used extensively in all parts of the world. There are many different languages spoken in many different accents.

In high school three years of English is required. They are taken in the Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior years. In your Senior year you have a choice of taking senior literature or speech . . . The students in speech entered a contest and Clara Brown won first place. The literature classes studied Shakespearian plays.

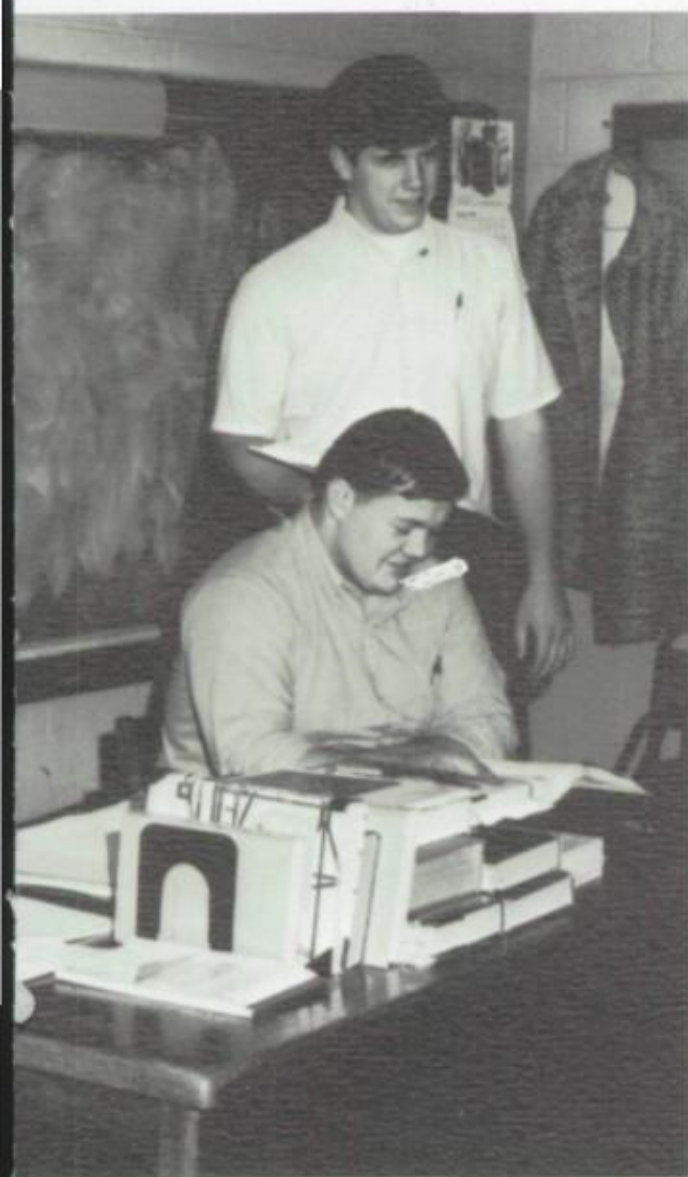

Two years of Latin are offered. At the end of each semester the Latin students have a party either at the park or in the high school gym.

Three years of German are also offered, and is enjoyed by many students.

This year we had a new language that was offered, Spanish. Many students enrolled in this course and learned to speak Spanish fluently.

Don is using illustrations to explain his speech.

Interesting lectures were given by Mr. Simmons in German.

Students Trained for the Commercial

Miss Crowder's typing class tried to build speed and accuracy on timed writings.

Debbie used the adding machine to add the totals for her bookkeeping.

Today's complicated economic system demands the services of highly trained personnel. With the complex books companies are required to keep, accountants with specialized training are needed. Qualified secretaries and persons trained for work with IBM computers are required in large numbers.

After high school, several students will have entered business colleges or immediately will have joined the large force of business workers. High school classes have offered many fields of studies in order to help students interested in business. Among these classes one can find typing, also offered in the summer. Typing benefited not only business majors but also other students. Shorthand offered many girls a quicker way of taking class notes as well as preparing future secretaries for dictation. In secretarial practice girls learned about office procedures and requirements. Many future accountants got a start in bookkeeping and record keeping. Other business electives offered were general business, business law, economic law, and geography.

Knox High School was equipped to train many career-minded students in business.

World by Learning Basic Business Skills

Karen Glass practiced filing every chance she got for Secretarial Practice.

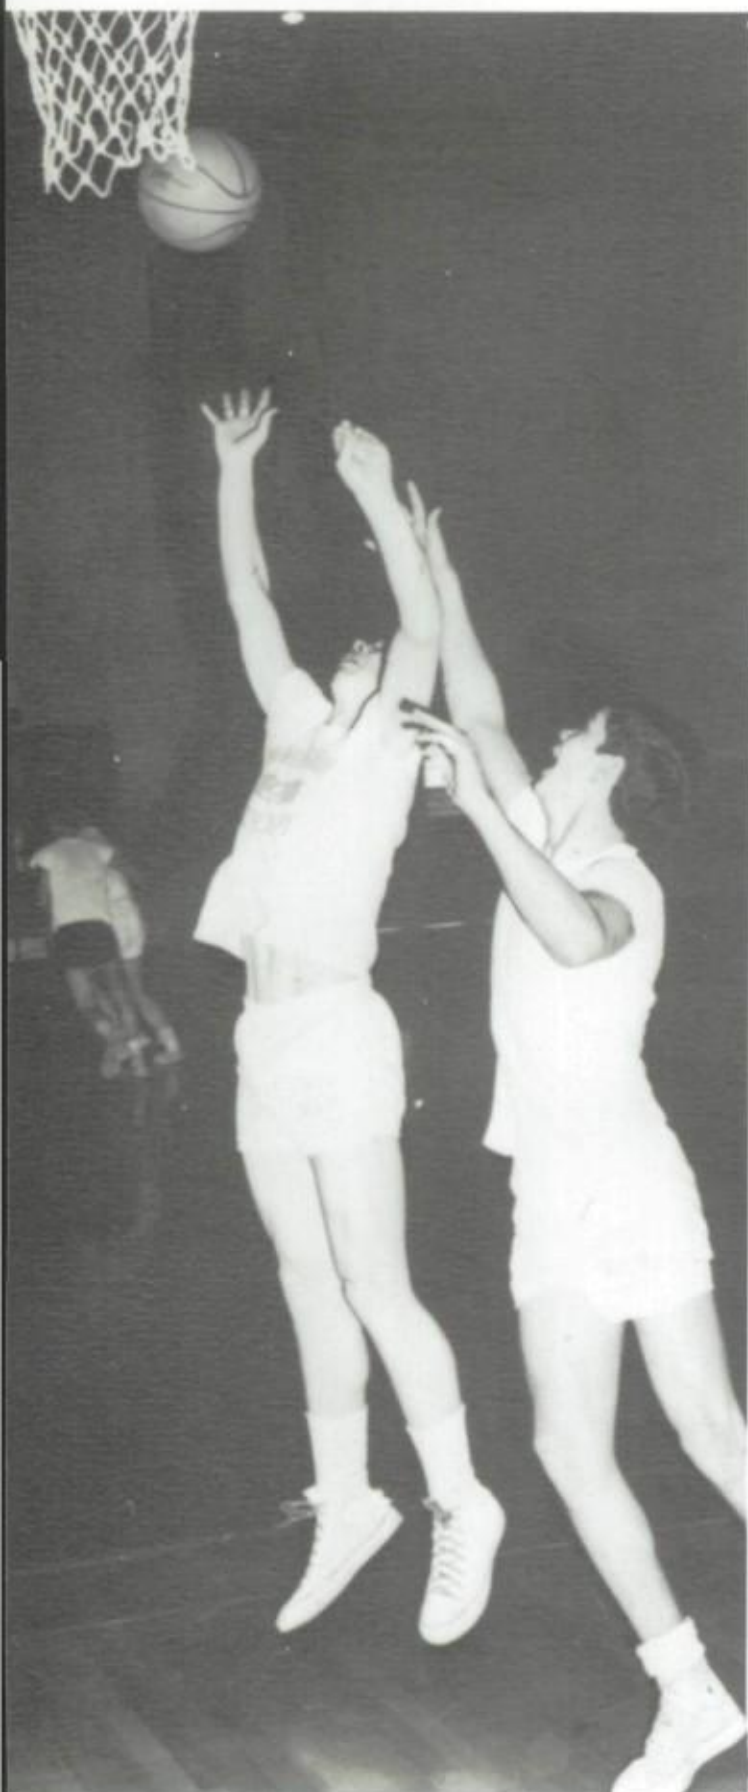

With Carol Minison dictating, Glenda Howard wrote her shorthand with as much speed as she could.

"Be a 'Wise Old Owl' When Buying on Installments" was the theme of this Business Law bulletin board.

Fine Arts and Physical Education

Tom and Dave enjoyed physical education especially when they got to play basketball.

Bob Peterson mimicks his art class creation, (notice the resemblance.)

Pam and Donna put up the stained glass replica that the art class made to help decorate our school for Christmas.

Refined Both Minds and Bodies

In a world as busy as ours you have to have a strong mind as well as a strong body. Physical education develops the body while art helps to develop the cultural interests of the student.

Physical education plays a major role in the development of the student. Physical education is a required course at Knox and is enjoyed by all of the sophomores.

In Physical education there are many activities to keep the student busy such as baseball, football, wrestling, track, tumbling, and bowling.

Art, this last year, was enjoyed by a number of students who wanted to learn to appreciate art more. In art you worked in many different areas of art, such as clay modeling, using paper mache, painting with water colors, and building model replicas of homes.

The art classes helped to keep our school decorated by putting up different displays no matter what the occasion. At Christmas they made a stained glass replica to put up in the front hall window and they also make some of the decorations for the proms.

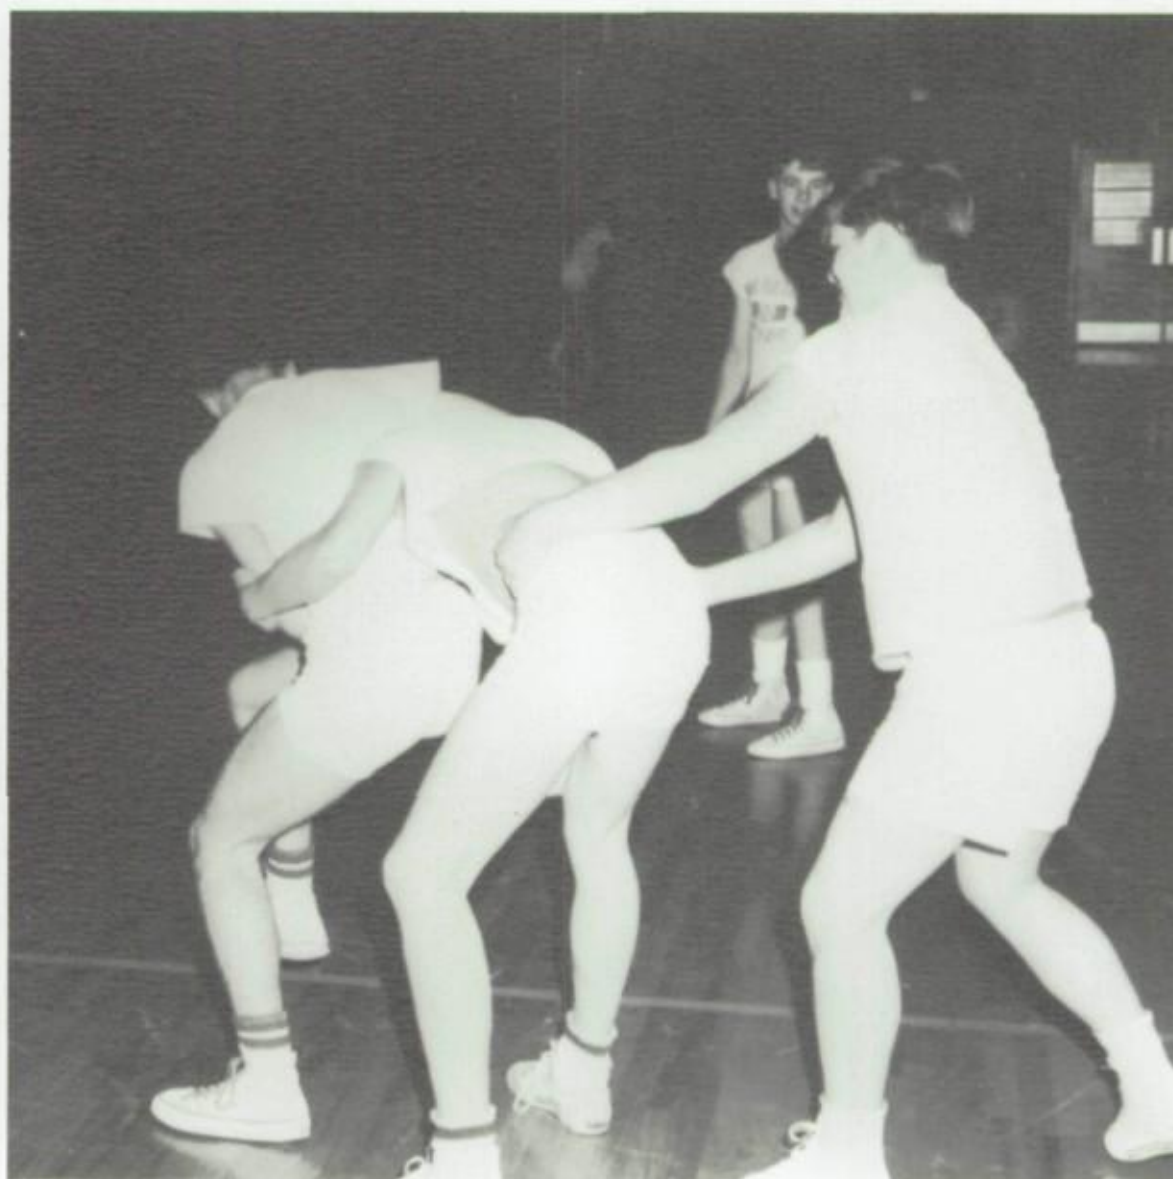

Pam decorates a model home.

Water painting was fun.

A nice friendly game of commando basketball.

Students Train Their

Many skills for future vocations were developed in the home economics, agriculture, shop, industrial arts, and mechanical drawing classes.

Girls in home economics realized that the home is the backbone of the nation and learned to cook, sew, care for children, and budget money. A broad scope of knowledge is gained by the girls as they prepare to become the future homemakers of our nation.

Boys taking agriculture studied the various methods of farming and raising livestock. They also worked in the agriculture workshop on machinery and had home projects which gave them first-hand experiences in this field. The aim of the industrial arts course was to give the pupil a background that would help develop an interesting hobby. Woodworking, metalworking, drawing plans of homes, design, and printing were some of the many things the boys in shop learned to do.

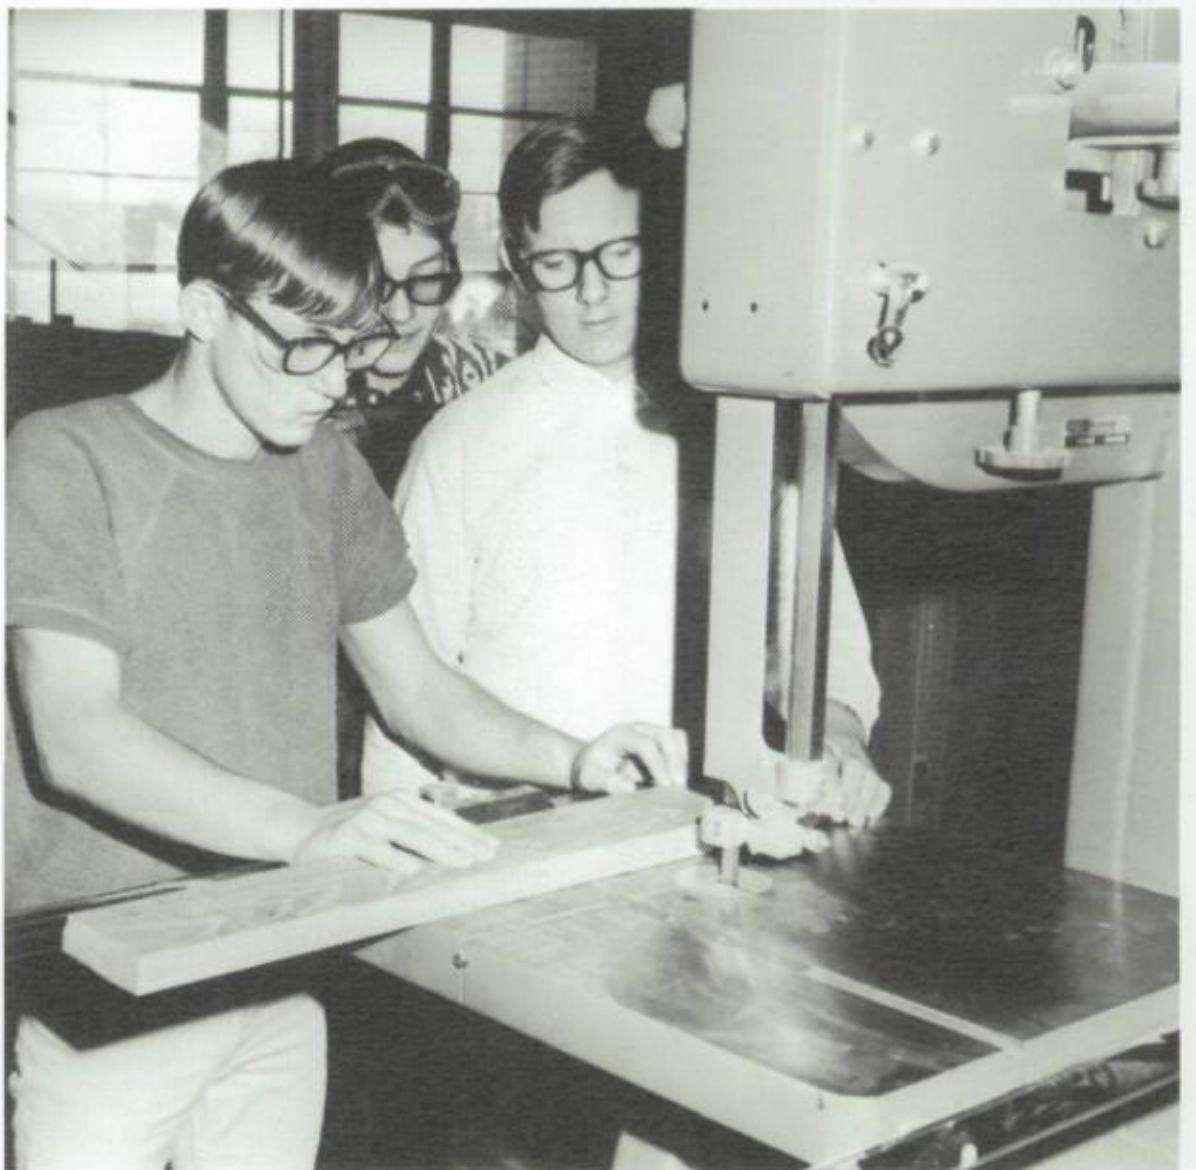

With the help of the many fine vocational department teachers, the students of Knox High School had the opportunity to take courses that will help them in future life.

David Miller appreciates the helpful suggestions from Mr. Habart.

Delores and Peggy shaped the popcorn tree that the 5th Period class made.

Jim Norem shows Mike Bauer how to cut out a table leg using the band saw.

Hands and Minds for Work

Mike Arndt watches Randy Bennett use the drill press with great skill.

With the help of Betty Legac, Connie Carpenter made candy for the whole class.

Marsha Moore enjoys learning to sew, in order to help her in the future.

Organizations of '69

Organizations took up a lot of the students' free time while providing enjoyment for all involved. Band, chorus, and annual met for an hour each day while the rest of the clubs found time after school, during activity period and at noon to hold their meetings. At their meetings, club members had many things to take care of. They elected officers, devised new ways of raising funds and worked on their money making projects.

Many of the organizations planned outings and dinners for the members to attend. All the groups in school gave students responsibility and pleasure while helping to perpetuate the spirit of '69.

The 1969 Sandbur was given a "new look" by last year's staff in an effort to make improvements on the book. The outward appearance of the book was changed from a "pressed" cover to an embossed cover. The staff chose a new type of paper for the book also. The textured paper chosen, reflects less light which makes the book easier to read. In an attempt to improve the photography, Mr. Hudkins suggested a new flash and camera.

Another of the changes was to move the delivery for the annual from May to August. This change allowed the annual to include the prom, the entire track and baseball seasons, and graduation.

The majority of the staff was new last year. Because of the inexperience of the staff, the "veteran" members had to show the new members the proper way to assemble a yearbook.

The staff hopes that these changes will help make the 1969 Sandbur one of the best yearbooks Knox High has ever had.

As a member of the Annual staff, Dorothy Ikeda had the job of putting the pages together.

The Knox High School Student Council was made up of representatives elected by the students of Knox High. It was through this group that the students were able to voice their opinions on various school activities and school policies.

Some of the projects the Student Council had were collecting food for the needy of the community at Christmas time, buying a new United States flag for the study hall and cleaning the Indiana State flag. They were in charge of getting people for lyceum programs and seating the students. The Student Council also visited other schools with the teachers to get ideas for our new school.

The Student Council held a dance after the home North Judson basketball game, presenting a radio as a door prize. Gary Watkins, a '68 graduate of Knox High School, was the winner of the radio.

Five of the entrants try a practice start.

Dotty Caudill and Mary Whitaker work on their exchange prior to the actual race.

Mini-race winners accept their trophies from Mr. Pence.

Queen Debbie Keller holds her roses as the members of the winning team receive their trophies from Mr. McCurdy.

On May 16, 1969, the Wily Coyotes rode to victory when after 86:37 seconds they crossed the finish line after 100 grueling laps to become the first winners of the event held at K.H.S. Deb Keller, their princess became the first "Little 500" queen. Dan Griffith, Dennis Griffith, John Warren, Dave Palmer, and Dave VanDeman finished a mere 36 seconds ahead of the second place team, sponsored by "Ma" Taylor.

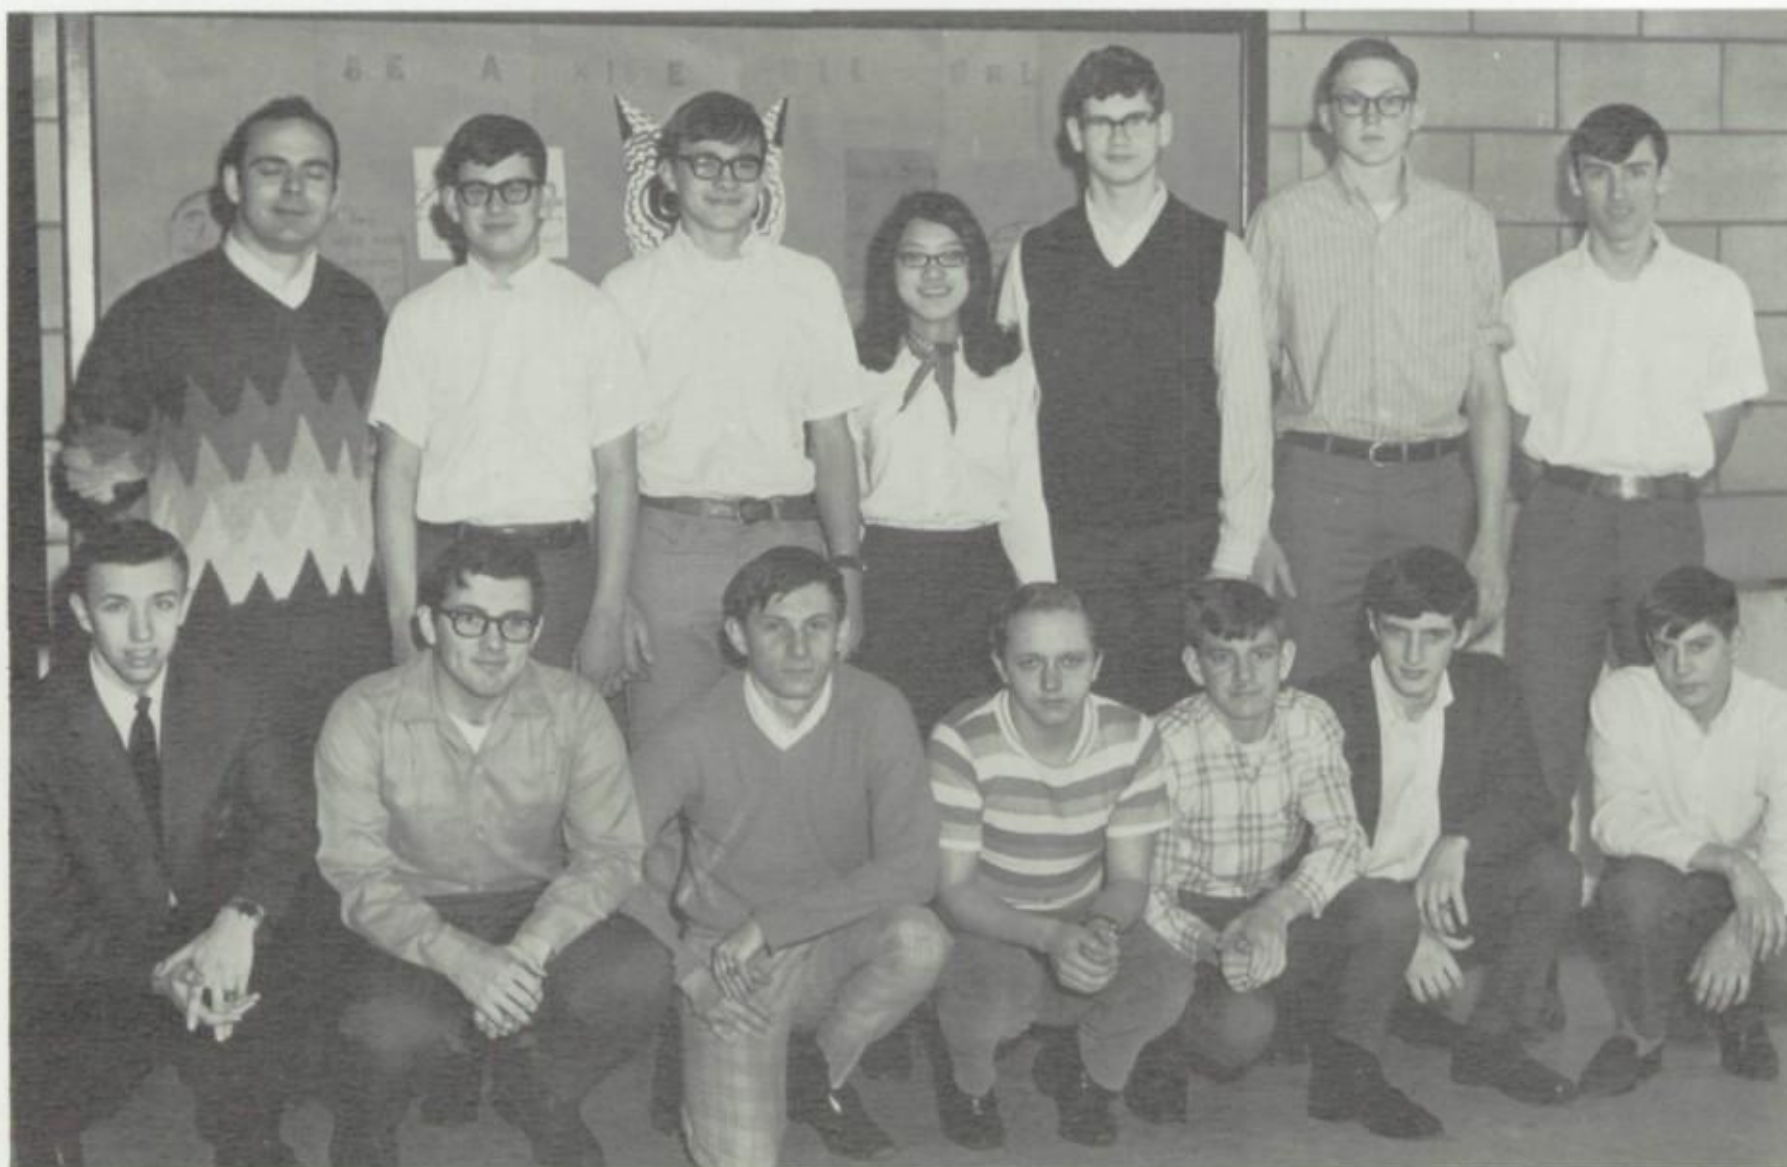

In a relatively safe race, a "red flag" accident occurred in the 53rd lap when Steve Bodinet and Dale Morris were involved in a wreck that made it impossible for either team to continue.

The "Little 500" was preceded by a milder but just as thrilling race, the mini-race. Donna Nordstrom and Laura Cook, the Mighty Mistresses won the event after defeating 11 other teams. A relatively safer race, still had its casualties. Patty Brettin required two stitches in her ankle after receiving a gash in her leg.

Knox Little 500 is an event that will long be remembered for its excitement and pageantry.

Knox High School Marching Band Is

The students of Knox High appreciated the high school band and how it helped to keep the school spirit going at full speed at the pep-sessions. They played with great enthusiasm and pep for our football and basketball games.

Having worked hard to raise the $10,000.00 for their uniforms, paid off when they got to wear them in the many parades they played for. They played for the Blueberry Festival at Plymouth, and the Santa Claus Parade and Memorial Day Parade at Knox. They performed for the community by presenting three concerts during the year. The Reddets marched with the band and performed at the basketball and football games.

The band worked hard third period to arrive at their goals for perfection. They not only had band practice third period, but in their study halls the members had private lessons and additional practice after school. All of the practices paid off when they went to Solo and Ensemble contest and then went to state contest where they won seven firsts. They also won a second at New Haven for the members of the band. They went to band camp where they practiced long and hard hours.

Mr. Collins and Mr. Pullen were very capable directors.

A revolution took place in the 1968-69 Senior High Choir. The beginning of the school year saw sparkling new blue and white robes taking the place of the old red and white ones which were passed down to the Junior High Choir. Two new ensembles were created from scratch with tryouts arousing lots of competition among our singers. This was also the first year that Director Paul McGaughey entered several soloists, in addition to the two ensembles, in the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. vocal contest at South Bend. These people represented our school very well receiving four Firsts. These winners went on to State Contest at Butler University.

Choir class was switched from fifth period in the afternoon to second period in the morning. This proved to be a much better time since the singers were not worn out from a long day of study, although some of them were not quite wide awake yet. This was not the last that Mr. McGaughey saw of his students. Throughout the day he was busy giving them private lessons. There were also many extra practices after school and in the evening.

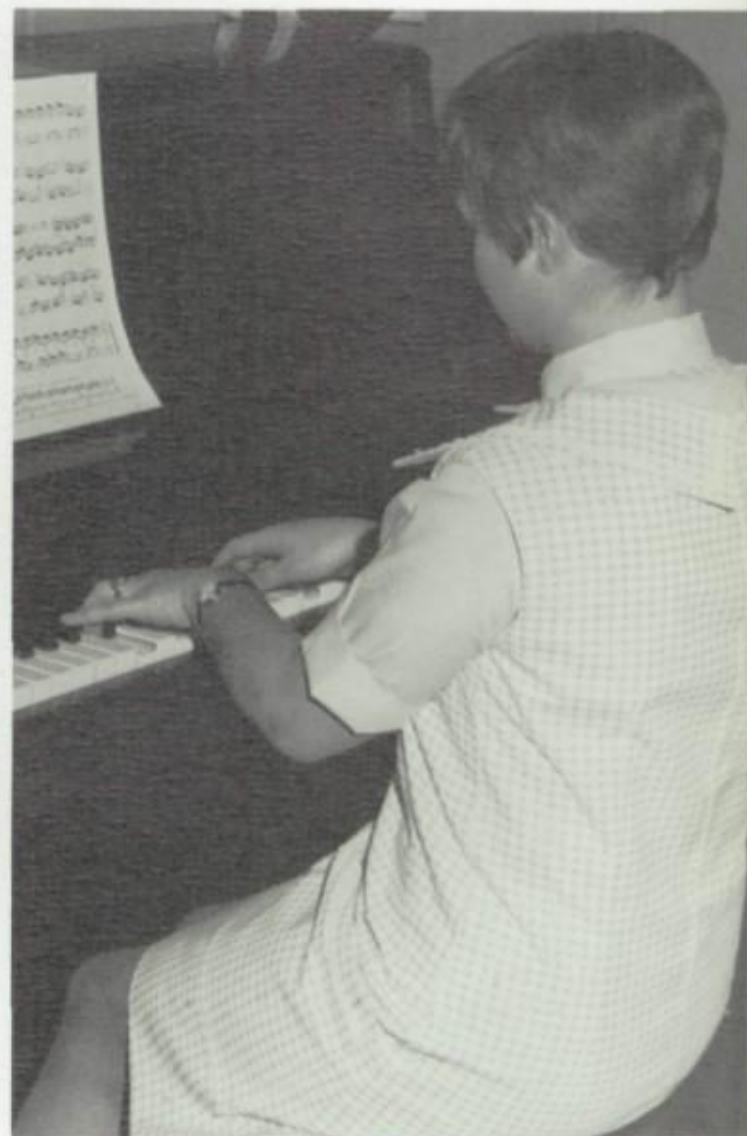

Our piano accompanists last year were Sally Sobraske, playing for the Sr. High Choir; Dorothy Ikeda, playing for the Sr. High ensembles; and Nan Dewey, playing for the Jr. High Choir.

Thespians Successfully Produce Mystery

Kris and Jerry put the curtains up a few days before the performance.

The 1968-69 members of the National Thespian Society completed a mission "impossible" for a dramatics group. They successfully produced a three-act play with only three weeks of preparation. Off to a late start because of a delay in the selection of the play, they did not begin practicing until three weeks previous to the performance. The director, Mrs. George Miller, told the cast at that time that it was an almost impossible task. The cast and stage hands proceeded to prove her wrong as they rehearsed "The High School Mystery". They all put in long hours in the evenings and on Saturdays.

The payoff came on April 25 and 26 when the performance was given to the public. Butterflies left the performers' stomachs as the play got under way. The audience, however, became quite nervous after awhile, for the play, a mystery comedy, was characterized by screams from the back of the audience, bodies oozing blood and a fight on stage. All these factors contributed to the successful completion of the mission.

Librarians Help Bring Enjoyment to

This year there were 25 student librarians in the High School and Junior High School libraries and seven projectionists. Miss Curnutt and Mrs. Schuster, the sponsors, spent many hard hours making the library better for the students use. The duties of the student librarians were to check out books, mend damaged books, serve the students, and make the library's facilities a pleasure to use. Another job of the librarians was the processing of new books. This proved to be a lot of work since the library received a great number of new books.

The student projectionists were a real help to the teachers. When a teacher needed a film shown they could always call on one of these students from study hall.

Mary Whitaker, a very active member of the library, was the Queen candidate for Homecoming, representing the Library and the Thespian Society.

"Any boy who has received a varsity letter in one of the five major sports is eligible for membership in the K Club. The purposes for this organization are to promote understanding and cooperation in all fields of athletics. They are to stimulate this good spirit in all athletic contests." So reads the K.H.S. student handbook, however to anyone who notices change this is no longer entirely true. The varsity sports now include six sports, but this biggest change isn't this at all. A chance to serve would have to be included to be accurate in 1968, 69, 70 or any year to come. Serving the school in many ways members have always found a way to serve; if not as the latter perhaps in many other ways. With one thought in mind K Club members have, do, and will continue one basic purpose; to serve.

Taking tickets at basketball games was one of Bill Wakal's duties as a member of K-Club.

Teams by Showing Much School Spirit

Although many of the faces in cheerblock were changed from last year, the good old Knox High spirit remained just as high as ever. When the basketball season came to a pitch at Sectional time, the regular 88 members of the cheerblock came through to meet the challenge. They were aided in the tournament by the organization of a boy's cheerblock. Their combined forces filled the gymnasium with sounds of "Good Luck" and all the other conventional cheers. When it was all over, the majority of the members were hoarse but all of them admitted it was well worth it.

The next week, they traveled to Notre Dame to an arena with a capacity of 14,000. Despite the size of the place and the comparative greatness of the other cheerblocks, the group from Knox could be heard above everything else.

The cheerblock boosted the team to a victory at the Sectional.

Senior girls enjoyed playing basketball.

Miss Graham remained sponsor of G.A.A. and the year was a successful one. The girls this year joined State G.A.A. which enabled them to take part in a state track and field meet and have playdays of various sports with other schools. There were fourteen girls on a basketball team that played other G.A.A. teams. Members of the G.A.A. went to the State G.A.A. Gymnastics meet.

The business meeting was changed back to every Wednesday instead of whenever necessary.

The activities the girls took part in were basketball, longbase, badminton, tumbling, shuffle-board, ping-pong, trampoline, dodgeball and volleyball.

The money making project for the year was a dance held March 21.

Packages to Servicemen in Vietnam

The school year of 1968-69 was a busy one for the Future Homemakers of America. With the help of their sponsor, Mrs. Hanselman, the girls had much fun and finished many projects.

In October and March, the officers attended district officers' meetings, where they learned new and efficient ways of doing their jobs. In March, they entered a scrapbook of events that happened over the year to the state.

Among the many activities the girls did were nominating Fern Miller as their Homecoming Queen candidate and making stuffed animals to send to a children's home. In November the Future Homemakers sent Christmas packages to the Starke County servicemen and women in Vietnam. The packages consisted of canned fruit, dried soup, hard candy, and gum. At noon the girls sold apples to raise postage money. In February, Mrs. Howard McIntire demonstrated the decorating of a heart shaped cake, giving the girls many helpful hints on cake decorations.

As a money making project, the Future Homemakers of America sold cookbooks during the year. At the end of the year, the girl selling the most cookbooks was awarded a prize.

Pam and Geneva enjoyed working on the stuffed animals to be sent to a children's home.

Last year much hard work went into the publishing of the Smoke Signals, the school newspaper. Miss Crowder, sponsor, Nancy Binkowski, Editor-in-chief, and the many staff members made the newspaper available to the students of KHS twice a month.

Last summer Nancy Binkowski attended the journalism workshop at Indiana University. Betty Zechiel, News Editor, attended a similar workshop at Ball State University.

For the first time yearly subscriptions were sold for $1.25. The paper was also available for $.15 a copy. Through the newspaper, the students of KHS kept up on the latest school news. The paper consisted of polls, news, sports, editorials, and featurettes.

The staff gave up much of their free time to get the paper out to their classmates. The time was spent taking polls, writing articles, typing, proofreading, mimeographing, stapling the pages together, and finally selling the paper.

Working on the Smoke Signals not only gave the staff good experience in journalism, but also the satisfaction of a job well done.

Clara, Pam, Debbie, and Jane assembled the Smoke Signals.

by Teaching Better Farming Methods

The F.F.A. is an organization for the boys interested in agriculture as a future occupation. It is a basic part of the education of the modern schooling system and is becoming very well known.

There is no other student organization that has greater freedom under adult supervision in the world. It was organized in 1928 to motivate the instruction offered to students, and to provide further training in farmer-citizenship.

The F.F.A. has its origin and root in a definite part of the school curriculum vocational agriculture. Members learn through active participation to conduct and take part in a public meeting; to speak in public; to buy and sell cooperatively; to solve their own problems; to finance themselves; and to assume civic responsibility.

The Future Farmers of America exists today because of a cooperative spirit and a desire on the part of farm boys, 14 to 21 years of age, preparing for farming through vocational agriculture to have a national organization of their own in which they may secure practical business experience, act as their instructors, and enjoy the fellowship of one another.

Sports of '69

The spirit of this past school year was shown expecially high in the field of athletics. Sports at Knox High School have always been given great support and encouragement by their fans, but last season was an exceptional one. Pep sessions boosted the teams' hopes to a high seldom before achieved. It seemed as though everyone, students and adults alike, was cheering just a fraction louder. But this fraction gave them the extra incentive to go out with the idea of winning for their school. This added support from the stands and the effort on the part of the players were the driving forces of the spirit of '69.

During the homecoming game with North Liberty the defense held out on the three yard line to preserve a tie for the final score of 0 to 0. Although the Redskins were defeated by the North Judson team in the final game of the year, the team had several high points.

The Redskins were under new leadership this year. Mr. Claude Sanders became the head coach and had a coaching staff made up of Mr. Tom Sanders, Mr. Clem Sniadecki, and Mr. Tom Hill. Dean Dorman was elected captain last year by his teammates.

The Knox varsity football squad consisted of 17 seniors, 11 juniors, 8 sophomores, and 16 freshmen. They completed the 1968 season with a 2—5—1 record. Although the team's record was not great, it was not indicative of the many fine moments of football played.

Gut was always seen first.

Knox Harriers Under Coach Kriston

Waiting for the results was one of last things runners worried about.

The start was the moment all runners waited for.

Gurrado was always a runner to admire for his determined spirit.

Uncertain of a good start, the Knox harriers began what was to be an unbeaten dual and three-way meet season. The season started early in the summer to build endurance and speed. Two boys were easily distinguishable as runners by their qualifying for the five hundred mile club even before the start of the official season.

Coming back from the previous season was the entire squad plus former O-D runner, Denny Griffith. The team then began burning up cross country courses, including our own. Bill Gustafson came within one second of the course record, set on a shorter track.

With the runners doing the glory work, Coach Kriston and his two managers were always found checking times and urging the boys on to victory. They then finished up by tallying team points to determine the winner.

Legs and arms fly as Mike Legac gets an elbow in his eye in a scuffle for a rebound against North Judson.

The members of last year's squad made Coach Chuck Kriston's first year at Knox a memorable one. Although the team had their ups and downs, they came through when it counted the most—Sectional time. They began the season with a pair of losses but then sandwiched a pair of one-point victories around a lopsided loss to Culver. Everyone in Knox was disappointed by the defeat at the hands of rival North Judson, but revenge came a couple months later when the Blue Jays were ambushed at Knox. The team set a new single game scoring record, pouring in 98 points in a tourney game. The Redskins topped off the regular season with single point victories over Plymouth and South Central. Knox was pitted against Culver in the Sectional finals and the final score was a reversal of the earlier battle between the two teams. For the first time, the winner of the Knox Sectional was sent to the South Bend Regional. Here, the Redskins made some early mistakes and weren't able to recover.

The squad was crippled after the fourth game of the season by the loss of forward Jack Moore due to illness and freshman Rodney Pawlik was brought up to fill his shoes. Leading the team in scoring was Roger Pawlik with a 17.3 average. Rick Brown and Denny Garland followed with 11.3 and 11.2 respectively. Coach Kriston hopes to have another Sectional winner next year with the return of many underclassmen.

First Season at Knox

A fight for possession of the ball ends up on the floor while players from Knox and Nappanee look on.

Dennis Garland stretches to out-reach a North Judson player in a typical Knox-Judson contest.

Rod Pawlik completes a pass to brother Roger in an upset victory over Plymouth.

Rod and Roger Pawlik fight for a rebound against a couple of Merrillville players.

During the 1968-69 school year, Knox High School organized its first official baseball team under the direction of Mr. Peters, acting as coach, and Mr. Hudkins, as assistant coach.

Showing an active interest in Varsity baseball, the players exhibited a competitive spirit and good sportsmanship. A three and five record resulted from fierce competition against experienced and long-established teams. Among these teams were Twin Lakes, South Central, LaCrosse, Culver, North Judson, Rennsselaer, and Winamac.

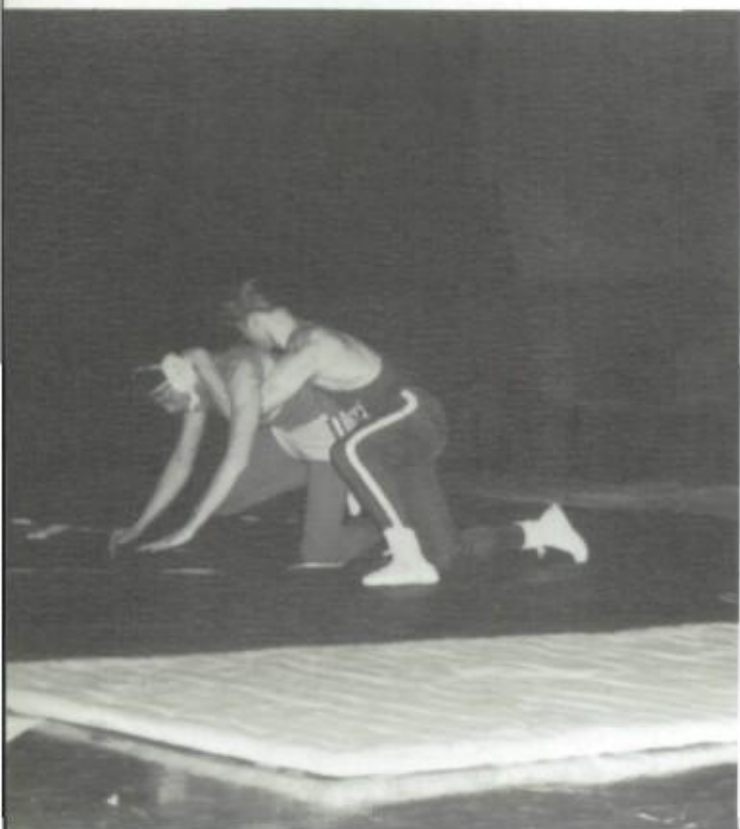

The Knox team also participated in the baseball sectional which took place at Twin Lakes. Playing against last year's sectional champs, Twin Lakes, they were defeated in the first game. Nevertheless, K.H.S. is proud of her baseball team. We feel that for a young team, they have gotten off to a pretty good start.

Ready and waiting, our team prepared for a good fight.

Wrestlers Complete Finest Season

Jay Slauter had to fight to control his opponent in the team's victory over North Judson.

After a dismal start, the 1968-69 version of the Knox wrestling team made a great comeback. Losers of three out of their first four meets, they proceeded to win the last five on the schedule to complete the season with a fine 6—3 record. This was the best wrestling record in its five year existence at K.H.S.

The year began on a good note with a victory at New Prairie. The team then hit a slump in which they suffered defeats at the hands of Twin Lakes, La Porte, and Michigan City. They finally found themselves and rattled off five straight victories, including an upset win over previously undefeated North Liberty.

Last year's squad was made up of many newcomers who learned the fundamentals and finer points of wrestling through hard work and determination. Besides new wrestlers, there was also a new coach. Coach Sanders, also an official, made his initial year as coach a great success by showing great patience when working with his wrestlers.

The team was led during the season by captain Chuck Randall who recorded a perfect 6—0 and sophomore Jim Norem with a 10—2 record. With so many young members last year, a great number of them freshmen, Coach Sanders hopes to compile an even better record next year.

Season Winning Eight, Losing One

The Knox High School Track Squad had a very successful season this year by winning eight and losing only one. We defeated our arch rival North Judson by 20 points, Culver by 39 points, North Liberty by 6 points (rain out), John Glenn by 61 points, Winamac by 18 points, in a dual meet we beat West Central by 26 points and South Central by 39 points. We were defeated only once and that was by Laville.

There were two school track records broken this year. Mark Tow broke the two mile run record by 3 seconds (old 10:35 new 10:32), and Roger Pawlik broke the high jump record by  $\frac{3}{4}$  of an inch (old 5'10  $\frac{1}{4}$  new 5'11.)

Practice time on the field found each man at his respective event. Coach Sanders helped the sprinters and the hurdlers work on their starts and their stride over the hurdle. Assistant Coach Sniadecki helped the quarter milers, half milers, and distance men on building up their endurance. Coach Sniadecki had three outstanding two milers in Harry Budka, Bill Gustafson, and the record breaker Mark Tow.

This year on the track team we had 10 seniors, 13 juniors, 9 sophomores, and 8 freshmen. Coach Sanders and Assistant Mr. Sniadecki look forward to a very successful 1970 season.

Mr. Sanders and Mr. Sniadecki, our distinguished coaches.

Dave VanDeman was the first one over!

Jay, Jim, and Mike always come out ahead.

People of '69

The people in all phases of life at Knox High were integral parts of the school system. The largest group, of course, was the student body. The students spent their days going to athletic events, lyceum programs, dances and the like and tried to soak up knowledge at the same time. The teachers perhaps had the hardest job of trying to drum facts and figures into the students while deciding whether or not to boycott the school. While all this confusion was taking place the administration kept the school in smooth running order. Each of these groups, no matter how large or small, contributed greatly to the spirit of '69.

Seniors Finish Their Last Year

The sponsors were as follows: Mr. Simmons, Mr. Kriston, Miss Crowder, and Mr. Sniadecki.

The Class of 1969 will long remember the fun and frolic, trials and tribulations, and toil and trouble that is always associated with a school. K.H.S. has been the focal point of their activities for the last eleven years, but in the final year this fact is even more evident.

The twelfth and final year saw every expectation of a graduating class met and surpassed. Honor Day saw the largest number of senior scholarship awards presented in any of seventeen years. Seniors distinguished themselves in every sport, organization, or activity while at K.H.S. Seniors were found working on the "Smoke Signals," editing the Sandbur, or helping in the offices. If a search for the Senior Class were started at any one time one would find them to be practicing on anything, trying anything, studying everything, or doing any—and everything.

Seniors looked forward to gathering between classes to talk to friends about their hobbies, dates, and homework.

Seniors enjoyed participating in extra-curricular activities such as Thespian Society.

With the help of posters and chants the Seniors cheered on our team during Homecoming.

The Senior float, "Cash In A Victory," won first place during Homecoming.

Toward the end of the year the Seniors didn't know whether they were coming or going.

Senior Homecoming queens and their escorts practiced for their last Homecoming.

The Juniors Entered KHS Anticipating

Officers, FRONT ROW: Jack Moore, Student Council; Debbie Keller, Secretary; Jim Beeson, Treasurer; Clara Bridegroom, Student Council; Jay Slauter, President; Merlyn Lucas, Vice-

President. SECOND ROW: Mr. Miller, Mr. Hudkins, Mrs. Hanselman, Mrs. Miller, Mr. Watson, and Mr. Hill, Sponsors.

The members of the class of '70 were looking forward to this year. Since the Juniors ordered their rings from Alan's Jewelry Store in May, they received them in August before school started.

Homecoming, the first main event of the year, excited the Juniors, especially the girls since one of them would represent the whole class as queen candidate. The lucky girl was Peggy Glass. The theme for the float was, "Candidate for Victory," which won 2nd place.

The Junior class was proud of the nine Junior lettermen in Varsity Football, and was especially proud when Jay Slauter was named "Most Valuable Back."

The money making project for the class of '70 was a Fish Fry held February 21. The money from the fish fry went toward the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Prom was made a success by all the time and hard work put forth by the Juniors.

The Class of '72 Worked Hard This Year

The class of 1972 enjoyed many activities and sports. The boys did very well in sports this year: They had one person make Varsity basketball and Varsity football teams, and one boy made B-team basketball.

The one hundred and fifty-nine Freshmen experienced many trials in their academic life, which consisted of subjects such as English I, literature, German, Latin, Spanish; (which was a newly offered course this year) algebra I, general business, general math, home-economics, mechanical drawing, and agriculture.

The sponsors, Mr. Scholz, Mr. Sanders, and Miss Douglas, guided the officers and the class of "72" to a successful year at Knox Junior High School.

Collecting attendance slips was one of Bill's many jobs as a hall monitor.

Community of '69

The city of Knox plays a most important role in connection with the high school. Besides its contribution with tax money, the city holds the future of the high school students.

Merchants in Knox provide summer and after-school jobs for students. Clerks, stock-boys, gas station attendants, and waitresses are just a few of the many ways in which Knox businesses employ the students. Also by giving the youth of Knox a chance to earn some money, the businessmen are teaching them to be reliable and to carry responsibilities. These people had a large part in molding the spirit of '69.
